

A young girl with blonde hair, wearing a bright pink raincoat and blue pants, stands on a wet sidewalk. She is holding a red umbrella with a white handle. The background shows a residential street with a large green bush, a red pickup truck, and a house with a grey roof. The ground is wet and reflective, indicating it is raining. Two green bounding boxes are overlaid on the image: one around the umbrella and another around the girl. Labels with confidence scores are placed near these boxes.
