

A photograph of three children sitting in a red toy train car on a wooden floor. The train car has yellow and red horizontal stripes. The child in the foreground is wearing a blue jacket and is partially covered by a blue segmentation mask. The child in the middle is wearing a green shirt. The child in the back is wearing a red and white striped shirt. There are two green bounding boxes with segmentation masks and confidence scores. One box is around the child in the blue jacket with a score of 0.91. The other box is around the child in the red and white striped shirt with a score of 0.95. The background is a dark wooden wall.
